

Invest in Success

Assertive Industries Regional Partner Independent Manufacturer Representative Program offers a tremendously lucrative opportunity. The first necessary step is completing a comprehensive training program that outlines the Product and Service Solutions you will be marketing to clients. Assertive provides expert training on all its products and services and will work with you to develop a successful plan for selling Assertive systems and services.

Training Program

Assertive’s Training Program provides a solid foundation of product and service knowledge to help you successfully market Assertive’s solutions. You’ll receive product and services training to develop a clear understanding of the markets you’ll serve. Certification Training is completed over an intensive three-day period.

Certification Earned by Individuals

Certification status is earned by individuals. Each Manufacturer Representative must complete the Certification Training Course. To ensure continuation of your Business Partner status specified minimum sales goals must be met. In addition, Assertive may require Manufacturer Representatives to become Re-Certified on new Product and Service offerings.

Generous Commissions Maximize Your Earning Potential

Commission is the sales fee Assertive pays you for each Product or Service you sell to a client. The more you sell, the higher the commission you make on each sale.

Your commission level is determined by the sum of your purchases for each quarter. Purchases are evaluated quarterly, so your commission level can increase on a quarterly basis. If at the end of the quarter your total sales are higher than those required by your current commission level, a new commission level and a new commission percentage will be applied to your next quarter. Commission levels may be reduced if quarterly purchases fall below targeted goals. Commission and commission levels are based on paid sales.

Commission applies to fixed asset and inventory management services and software product purchases. Software sales earn between 10-20% commission while consulting services earn 10-15% commission.

Co-op Funds Stretch Your Promotional Dollars

Cooperative (Co-op) Marketing Funds represent a significant resource with which to promote your business. Based on sales to date, these funds will be used to pay for advertising, social media, mailings, telemarketing and other marketing activities to help grow your region.

Co-op funds are based on your commission level- the more you sell, the higher the co-op percentage allocated to your region.
